Then tell me, what doth he vpon the seas?
Dar. Vnlesse for that my Liege I cannot guesse.
Kin. Vnlesse for that he comes to be your Liege,
You cannot guesse wherefore the Welchmen comes,
Thou wilt reuolt and flye to him I feare.
Dar. No mighty Liege, therefore mistrust me not.
Kin. Where is thy power now to beat them backe?
Where are thy tenants, and thy followers?
Are they not now vpon the westerne shore,
Safe conducting the rebels from their ships.
Dar. No my good Lord, my friends are in the North.
Kin. Cold frinds to Richard, what do they in the North?
When they should serue their soueraigne in the West.
Dar. They haue not bin commanded mighty soueraigne,
Please it your Maiesty, to giue me leaue,
Ile muster vp my friends, and meet your Grace,
Where and what time your Maiesty shall please?
Kin. I, I, thou wouldst be gon to ioyne with Richmond,
I will not trust you sir.
